In their opening dual of 2023, the Southwest Valley tennis girls hoped to give the Shenandoah Fillies a run for their money in a home contest on Monday, April 3. The Timberwolves fell 6-3, but showed that they indeed will be more competitive against the stronger teams on their schedule than they were a year ago.

"Certainly Clarinda, a state qualifier from last season who has everyone back from last year, is amazing, but I would put Shenandoah in tier two on our schedule along with St. Albert and Red Oak," Southwest Valley head tennis coach Steve McGrew said. "So this was a very encouraging opening performance for us."

Singles: Charlee Larsen (SWV) defeated Paige Gleason 8-6; Emma Olson defeated Anjali Kathikar (SWV) 8-3; Brooke Hays defeated Ryanne Mullen (SWV) 8-4; Auri Trowbridge defeated Karissa Richev (SWV) 8-5: Maddie Bevington (SWV) defeated Abigail Martin 8-3; Gabi Jacobs defeated Natalia Zimmerman (SWV) 8-6.

"Wow is the best word I have for what I saw from Charlee," McGrew said. "She had to make such a huge one, but she looked very comfortable in this meet despite limited practice time." Doubles: Larsen/Mullen defeated Gleason/

Olson 8-3; Hays/Trowbridge defeated Richey/ Bevington by injury default; Martin/Jacobs defeated Kathikar/Zimmerman 9-8. "Richey rolled an ankle at the end of her close singles loss," McGrew said. "It was an easy decision to default the doubles match. She has looked better than ever, and I feel terrible for her."

The girls were able to get some JV action in as well.

McGrew said the two JV players for SWV, Ivy Lenz and Layla Konecne, were "troopers who were willing to play a lot of matches, which allowed Shenandoah to bring all eight of their JV players and give them experience."

To save the SWV JV warriors, the format was shorter: first to four by one with no-ad scoring.

Singles: Gough defeated Lenz 4-0; Guschenritter defeated Lenz 4-0.

Doubles: Gough/Martin over Lenz/Konecne 4-1: Gutschenritter/Baldwin over Lenz/Konecne 4-0; Gray/Leece over Lenz/Konecne 4-2; Hobbie/Green over Lenz/Konecne 4-2. Thomas Jefferson

The Timberwolves girls traveled to Council Bluffs to take on Thomas adjustment from number five to number Jefferson on Thursday, April 6, knowing that without one injured varsity regular in the lineup, the mission of defeating TJ would be a little trickier.

> "But, to the possible disappointment of Tom Cruise fans, the task turned out to be Mission Possible rather than Mission Impossible as the Timberwolves got past the host Yellow Jackets, 7-2," McGrew said. "We miss Karissa Richey, without question, and hope to get her back sometime this season. But we felt we had enough experience to pull off the job. It was a nice confidence win for us heading into > a tournament in Saydel on Saturday." Larsen defeated Makenna Sorensen (TJ) 8-0; Kathikar defeated Cara Ronk (TJ) 8-4; Mullen defeated Mylee Minturn (TJ) 8-1; Bevington defeated Poole (TJ) 8-3; Zimmerman defeated Alyssa Koppold (TJ) 8-0; Lenz fell to Rylee Perrine (TJ) 2-8.

> Larsen/Mullen defeated Sorensen/ Ronk 8-1; Kathikar/Bevington defeated Koppold/Olivia VanSoelen 9-7; Minturn/Perrine defeated Zimmerman /Lenz 8-4.

> "Doubles was played first, and I think the comeback win by Kathikar and Bevington really gave us some momentum heading into singles," McGrew said.

In JV action, SWV's Konecne performed in singles. Izlea Macklem defeated Konecne 6-2; Kaylee Driver edged Konecne 6-3.

Saydel tournament

Saturday, April 8, SWV girls tennis competed in the Saydel tournament and won on the strength of first place and second place finishes in doubles.

The tournament allowed each team to designate two players in singles with each win earning the team two points; and designate two pairs in doubles with each win in the championship round earning three points. Southwest Valley finished with 15, Saydel 11, Knoxville four, and Centerville two.

"You always hope you stategize right in these kind of events," McGrew said. "Because you aren't certain what the other schools are going to do in this unique type of competition until the line-up cards are turned in."

Doubles: Larsen/Mullen defeated Jesalynn White/Sophie Henerson (C) 10-1; Larsen/Mullen defeated Alyssa Neddermeyer/Josie Rhodes (S) 10-7; Larsen/Mullen defeated teammates Kathikar/Bevington 10-5.
