For the second year in a row, COVID consumed the headlines in 2021.

In January 2021, The Red Oak Express published an article on how the county is nearing completion of Phase 1A of the COVID vaccine.

COVID vaccine press releases and articles would continue to run on a monthly basis througout the year, including information on vaccine booster shots in the fall.

However, due to COVID, there was a less than average influenza season in 2021.

Whether that was from people wearing masks and staying/ working from home was not validated, it was suspected by health officials.

March, longtime In Montgomery County Memorial Hospital CFO Ron Kloewer was appointed MCMH CEO, replacing David Abercrombie.

Also in March, the Pudgy Pumpkin Patch was under the new ownership of Diana Heitbrink.

In April, major renovations were underway at the former Red Coach Restaurant in Red Oak. Stadium 34, owned and operated by Rocky Rocha, which opened in June.

It was also in April when longtime Red Oak supporter and resident Elaine Hollen was selected as the 2021 Red Oak with a few safety stipulations in place. Nate Ernst and Madison Bruce were crowned 2021 Red Oak Prom King and Queen Saturday, April 24.

To kick off summer, a lack of staff availability was the reason behind the Red Oak municipal swimming pool not opening Memorial Day weekend. However, the pool opened in early June and had a very successful first year.

It was also in June when a familiar face returned at the helm of the Montgomery County Development Corporation. Former executive director Steve Adams returned to replace Shawnna Silvius.

Another nugget of excitement locally was about the movie,"Unbreakable Boy," adapted from Red Oak native Scott LeRette's award-winning novel, which has been given a March 18, 2022, movie release date. The film, produced by Lionsgate and Kingdom Story Company, stars Zachary Levi and Patricia Heaton.

When the Red Oak City Council convenes again in January, it will be with several new faces at the helm, including newly-elected Red Oak Mayor Shawnna Silvius.

Silvius said it was the public and a lot of soul searching that finally led her to declare her candidacy.

"I went back and forth for about six months as I had to genuinely discern in my own mind and heart to ensure I was indeed driven by a higher motivation, that I was certain my intentions were for the right reasons with the right mindset. Over the past year and a half, I've had many people approach me, and in March it was suggested I consider running for city council or mayor. In my previous position with Montgomery County Development Corp., I felt confident that I knew what was needed to advance Red Oak and I knew the barriers could be overcome," Silvius explained. "Red Oak has tremendous potential to flourish and grow. I understand the core issues behind our declining population and the direct correlation these have to our workforce and growth challenges. Challenges facing Red Oak include lack of housing, fiber optic broadband and available workforce, job creation, and business and population retention and growth. As mayor of Red Oak, I'm in a position to support and empower those who share the goals of addressing these issues."

To prepare herself for the position, Silvius said she's attended city council meetings consistently to gain knowledge and understanding of current issues since September and has started through the municipal leadership academy along with incoming council members Tim Fridolph and Brian Bills, and they will continue several more trainings, as well as learning from other programs and organizations.

"I've joined the Iowa Mayors Association and registered for several meetings in January and February. I've connected with the new mayors in our neighboring counties, and we all share a desire to collaborate and advance the Southwest Iowa regional area. I've met with city staff and outgoing mayor [Bill] Billings. I've met with the chamber and economic development directors as a strong partnership with them along with our county supervisors and investors are essential moving forward. I've begun actively advocating for Red Oak in conversations with our state and national leaders and vital state and federal agencies. I'm starting to meet with our county supervisors as well as other community leaders in Red Oak and across our county. All these connections must continue to build stronger relationships and partnerships," commented Silvius.

In addition, Silvius said she toured the Prairie Fire Lofts project

Additional no parking zones approved

Nick Johansen The Red Oak Express

The Red Oak City Council has approved additional noparking zones.

The council held the second reading of an ordinance that would create additional no-parking areas on the city's streets at its regular meeting Dec. 20. Under the proposal, the following city streets will have no parking:

• The west side of Boundary Street from Summit Street to Prospect Street.

• Both sides of Boundary Street from Prospect Street to Washington Avenue.

• The west side of Miller Avenue from Summit Street to Reed Street.

• The west side of Broad Street from Washington Avenue to Grimes Street.

• The south side of Reed Street, going 75 feet from the centerline of Miller Avenue.

Red Oak Mayor Bill Billings said he had driven through Boundary Street, one of the roads up for additional noparking zones, and he felt the narrow width of the road was a major problem.

"It is a real nuisance having the cars parked at the end of the street, because if you're trying to turn a corner, and there is a car parked there, you can't enter or really do anything," Billings said.

The council had received a note from Kevin McCartney and Sherri Porter. Both live on Boundary Street and both expressed concerns about the ordinance.

"They were concerned that no parking on the roads would lead to speeding. I'm not sure that parking cars along the curb is typically the route we want to go to slow down vehicles, but I said that I would share that with you, and I explained to them that what we have heard from our emergency responders and our city crews that it is extremely tight and difficult to move vehicles through there," commented Wright.

Also, Wright said he was surprised to learn, after researching the road, that it only has a 40-foot right of way, and that it was the only street in town that was that narrow.

Councilperson Jeanice Lester said she had heard comments from the public, and they were in favor of the additional no parking zones.

The council approved the second reading of the ordinance amending city code pertaining to parking regulations, and approved waiving the third reading of the ordinance. The council then approved a motion to adopt the ordinance.

In other business, the council:

Approved a pay request from Omni Engineering in the amount of $441,334 for the 2021 street asphalt project.

Approved the final pay request to Ricchio Incorporated, in the amount of $20,000, for the aquatic center rehabilitation project.

Approved hangar lease agreements for Beech Headings, LLC; Josh Trail; Red Oak Hawks, LLC; Brian Manning; and KGL Aviation, per the airport commission's recommendation.

Extensions granted for several nuisance properties

Nick Johansen

The Red Oak Express

The Red Oak City Council participated in three hearings with Red Oak residents regarding nuisance situations at its Dec. 20 meeting.

The first hearing took place between the council and Victor Vukonich, who lives in the 1500 block of North 5th Street. Vukonich received a notice from the city regarding leaves being blown from his property into the street.

City nuisance officer Bill Deitering said he received a complaint that Vukonich had blown leaves from his property across the street to a neighboring property, then later received another phone call on the same subject. A third person, Deitering said, spoke to him about the situation directly two days after he received the phone call.

Vukonich stated the accusations were false, and he had not blown any leaves onto a neighbor's property. He stated he had blown some leaves that were packed into the gutter into the middle of the street to be picked up by the street sweeper, in order to keep the street's sole sewer drain clear of debris.

Photographs had been given to the council showing Vukonich blowing the leaves into the street. Councilperson Jeanice Lester said if the other property owners did the same, it would be problematic for the sweeper.

"I know you requested the street sweeper there, but the city's street sweeper is not designed to pick up everyone's leaves," Lester said.

Additionally, the pictures appeared to show Vukonich blowing the leaves from his parking out into the street. Wright said he had received similar complaints of leaves being blown out into the street, and said there was no fine being issued.

"As far as the notice, my understanding is that Deitering issued the warning solely to make Vukonich aware that this could not happen again, and he will not be fined at this time, and to let him know that if it happens again, he could be cited," Wright said. Red Oak Mayor Bill Billings echoed the sentiment that the street sweeper didn't have the capacity to clear the large volume of leaves pictured. "Based on the large piles of leaves that were created in this picture, there is absolutely no way the street sweeper could pick those up. We don't have a vacuum on it," Billings explained. Vukonich said he was not intentionally attempting to be a nuisance, and he said he was now aware that it has become a problem with some of the people around his neighborhood and he would stay out of the street. No further action was taken by the council regarding the nuisance situation.

The second nuisance hearing was in regards to a home owned by Brandon Strunk in the 900 block of East Reed Street. Strunk had been cited for trees in his yard which were declared a violation of city code.

Strunk had two trees in his front yard that were killed by Emerald Ash Borers. Strunk removed the trees, but asked to be left with stumps for lawn décor. When they were removed, he said they were a bit longer than he intended, but he'd been told the stumps were low enough that they would not be considered topped.

The council members reviewed the pictures, and they and Wright were in agreement that according to city code, they were more than just stumps.

"Unfortunately, I feel like they're going to need to come down, and the nuisance officer is in agreement, so the question before the council is whether the stumps are allowable, or if they should be removed," said Wright.

Lester said she felt bad that Strunk was informed differently, but she felt that the stumps needed to be kept to city code. Wright was in agreement.

"If you get the stumps cut down to five feet then I don't think anyone will complain," Wright said.

Strunk said he would make the necessary arrangements to shorten the stumps to the five-foot recommended height specified by city code. No further action was taken by the council.

The last nuisance hearing was with Susan Hamilton, regarding her property in the 200 block of South 2nd Street. Hamilton's notice indicated there needed to be a removal of items, and dense overgrowth needed to be removed.

Hamilton advised the council she had been doing what she could based on her fixed income, and was still searching for a person or persons to assist her. Hamilton was requesting more time to complete the clean-up so she didn't get a citation that she couldn't afford.

Lester said the council had been giving 30-day extensions when it came to the clean-up.

Ask your health care provider for an HIV test today.

"I would suggest that if we grant an extension, that you work with Bill Deitering for the 30 days to keep progress on the clean-up moving forward," Lester said.

Deitering said he would be open to working with Hamilton, and did say that she had been working on the property for over a year since her initial citations.

The council agreed to a 30-day extension for Hamilton, and urged Hamilton, to provide documentation of the progress being made. The council will review the progress on the property after the extension expires.

MARSHA SKALBERG, 71

Marsha Bethene (Meyer) Skalberg, 71, was born in Shenandoah, Aug 31, 1950, to the delight of parents, Arnold Wayne Meyer and Eula Bethene (Nance) Meyer. Marsha grew up on the farm, enjoying God's creation. She attended a country school near Imogene which she enjoyed immensely. Later, her education continued when she entered her high school years in Shenandoah where she graduated in 1968. She enjoyed all the academics offered, also the extra-curricular aspects of a larger school. She made many life-long friends and with her special loving and caring disposition has retained them all these years.

While attending high school, Marsha was employed part-time at several entities in Shenandoah. For her career she was a long-time employee of the State of Iowa Department of Human Services as an Income Maintenance Worker. She retired from this position in 2010.

On May 25,1968, she married Terry Gene Skalberg. To this union four children were born, namely Cari Ann, Todd Michael, Tara Renae, and Trevor Gene. Marsha had a special love for children, most especially babies from her early childhood. She babysat for many families, where she cemented relations with those children, and those caring relationships have remained to this day.

Marsha was a very special lady noted for her caring heart, not only where her family was concerned but to her many friends in other communities. If she knew anyone had a special need, she would fulfill that need if she possibly could. She often was seen visiting many of her elderly friends who were confined to nursing homes and lifted their spirits with her caring presence and engaging smile.

She was honored to spend many years caring for her mother, Eula, after her father passed away. She loved spending time with her children and grandchildren, and her greatest joy was when they were all together. Marsha lived in Red Oak most of her life. After Terry died she moved to Conway, N.H., hoping to be able to travel back and forth between New Hampshire and Colorado as she had a deep desire to be closer to her children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren. She very much loved holding and playing with her four great-grandchildren more recently.

Marsha was predeceased by her husband, Terry Gene Skalberg on April 5, 2020; two daughters, Cari Ann and Tara Renae; her parents, Arnold and Eula Meyer; in-laws, Carroll and Dorothy Skalberg; maternal grandparents, John and Edna Nance; and brother-in-law Donnie James Skalberg; uncle, Johnnie Nance; and aunts, Letty Berlowitz Clark and Bonnie Jackson.

Left to survive her are her two sons, Todd Skalberg and wife Angeli, and Pastor Trevor Skalberg and wife Holly; seven grandchildren, Chelsea Scribner and husband Brian; Olivia Skalberg; Lydia Brandt and husband Marc; Ellie Skalberg; Kali Caceres and husband Mario; and Isaiah Skalberg and Sofie Skalberg; four great-grandsons, Sebastian Burbridge, Malachai Caceres, Mateo Caceres and Beckam Scribner; brothers, Gary Meyer and wife Sharon, and Wesley Meyer; sister-in-law, Carole Ann Coughlin and husband Don; brother-in-law, Randy Skalberg and wife Jamie; aunts, Betty Davis, Doris McKinnon and Ruth Campain; uncles, Lonnie Nance and wife Wanda; Bill Nance and wife Joyce; Dennis Nance and wife Susan, along with many cousins and a host of loving friends.

Marsha was a loving child of God and displayed her love and faith for her Jesus as she walked on this earth. After she was diagnosed with cancer, she began treatment and through this trial held fast to her faith always trusting that God was in control. In the midst of cancer treatments, Marsha contracted COVID, and both illnesses took their toll on her and Jesus called her home on Dec 8, 2021. Although Marsha is no longer present with us, special memories will always and forever be in our hearts and minds. She will truly be missed until the moment we see her again in heaven. Over the last few years Marsha spoke many times about how she longed to "go home" to be with the Lord and all the loved ones who went before her especially Cari-Ann and Tara, her two daughters.

Before moving to New Hampshire, Marsha attended Nishna Valley Christian Church and in New Hampshire she attended Journey Church. She served the Lord in many ways and was especially happy using her culinary skills to prepare food for Vacation Bible School and other occasions at the church. A special open house will be held in Conway, N.H., at Marsha's home on Jan. 7, 2021, from 4 to 8 p.m. All who knew and loved her are welcome to come to reminisce and to honor Marsha in this way. A Celebration of life service will be held April 30 at 1 p.m. at Nishna Valley Christian Church in Shenandoah.

THE TIME CAPSULE | ROY MARSHALL

Red Oak's High School Seven

n early May of 1916, when the Des Moines Register's focus was Iowa rather than Des Moines, that paper had a Sunday edition front-page article accompanied by a picture of eight Red Oak residents.

They were Mrs. H.W. McElroy and Misses Grace Hewitt, Frances Schadel, Dorothy Phelps, Gladys Morgan, Elfeda Murchie, Edith Armstrong and Grace Gibson.

Mrs. McElroy was county chair of a group with a cause and was also organizing related activities in Mills County.

The Register said these eight were highly effective equal suffrage activists. The girls had, the paper continued, placed suffrage pennants in the front window of every store in Red Oak.

They established a headquarters, held regular street-corner rallies, suffrage tea parties, brought in guest speakers and were planning a "suffrage evening" at the library.

The editor of our Express told of witnessing a "crier" who walked Red Oak's square calling out the time and place of the next rally.

The paper also presented letters and arguments both for and against. (Included were excerpts from a letter sent by a group called "The Association of Men Opposed to Women's Suffrage."

They suggested the one-family/one-vote concept caused couples to debate and reach agreement, thereby creating a model by which to sort out other differences.

Eliminating this system would weaken the family structure, they wrote, citing Colorado as an example.

In that state, where women had the vote since 1893, the divorce rate was 409 per 100,000 marriages.

In nearby states the combined rate of divorce was 262 per 100,000. Also cited were statistics that showed women rarely voted, even when they could. At a city election in Des Moines, with about 20,000 women eligible, only 432 cast a ballot

A significant percentage of women opposed suffrage, and there were traditionalists of both sexes who argued that the current system worked and therefore should not be changed.

Woodrow Wilson, Democrat, was U.S. President from 1913-1921. Democrats also had a majority in the Senate. An Express editorial pointed out that suffrage was introduced several times during those years, but failed.

Twice when it was voted on, Republicans in Congress were mostly in favor, but were defeated by Democrats.

Suffragists had an alternate path. The U.S. Constitution authorized states to establish voting standards.

Voting rights could be achieved by most states, although several had statutory requirements that set the bar so high as to be almost impossible. Suffragists went to work in states in which they had a chance, and met success.

Montana went that route, promptly elected Republican Jeanette Rankin to the US House of Representatives, and she went to work.

The Red Oak Eight aided a state-wide effort that resulted in a legislative proposal to amend the Iowa Constitution. The measure would be voted on in Iowa's 1916 primary election.

As that June date approached the High School Seven took to the streets, chatting with anyone who would listen. They worked restaurants and coffee shops and places where voters (men) congregated.

They hung banners from horse-drawn delivery wagons and had a "Tag Day," during which they put a suffrage pin on every lapel they could.

McElroy went on the road, speaking at locations in this and Mills County. On election day they were elated when heavily Republican Montgomery County male voters went yes.

Early reports indicated nearby counties were doing likewise, but there was no radio or TV and for state-wide results they had to wait till morning.

The Register brought good news; rural counties, mostly in western and central Iowa, gave the measure a comfortable lead. Victory for the voting rights provision was projected to carry.

On Thursday morning, though, roses turned to road apples. Heavily populated cities, mostly in eastern Iowa and dominated by Democrats, overwhelmed the rural vote.

The final margin was close, with suffrage failing by about 4,000 votes. (The culprit was probably booze. Many advocates of suffrage were pushing just as hard for Prohibition. Democrats, less supportive of Prohibition than Republicans, saw a vote for women as a vote against spirits.)

McElroy would carry on, but was limited in what she could do. The High School Seven graduated and moved on to college, marriage or a career.

Representative Rankin led the U.S. House to approval of suffrage and the Senate eventually concurred. The next hurdle was ratification by two-thirds of the 48 states.

Iowa was among those moving quickly, calling a special legislative session to become the 10th state to ratify, and the magic number was reached in 1919.

I wonder if granddaughters of Red Oak's High School Seven are aware of the work those girls did?

FROM THE CAPITOL U.S. REP. CINDY AXNE

Reflecting on a Year of Critical Investments, Big Savings for Iowa

ver the past year, I've been Ohard at work fighting for the policies and investments that Iowa needs to grow and succeed in the future - and I'm proud of all that I've been able to get done with the help of Iowans like you.

This year has proved to be a particularly busy year for me in Congress as I helped secure historic investments in our infrastructure and tax cuts for our working families that put billions back into Iowa's economy. And in addition, I helped bring more than $114 million in federal grant money back to Iowa to support projects happening here in Iowa's Third Congressional District and ensured more than $930,000 owed to my since day one in Congress.

I've also been working to tackle the supply chain disruptions and bottlenecks that Iowans have been facing for the past year.

I rolled out my Supply Chain Solutions Agenda to tackle a range of issues affecting Iowans' ability to get the products they need and bring their own goods to market everything from port congestion to shortages of truck drivers and lack of investments in our domestic manufacturers. And I helped get legislation passed in the House to fix our supply chains, lower prices for Iowans, and ensure our industries can continue to feed and fuel the world. In 2021, 11 of my bills were signed into law, including the Sgt. Ketchum Rural Veterans' Mental Health Act, which will expand mental health care to rural veterans. I also backed legislation to award Corporal Daegan Page, a marine from Red Oak, the Congressional Gold Medal after he was killed in Afghanistan while serving our country earlier this year. I got new laws on the books that help ensure first responders are reimbursed fairly and to make sure those who were affected by the 2020 derecho received the federal assistance they needed.

Congress to lower the costs of prescription drugs, child care, housing, and education.

I'm determined to get bills that I've written that support our biofuels industry, farmers, and Iowa manufacturers signed into law.

I'm committed to extending measures like the expanded Child Tax Credit and health care tax credits that have already put more money back in Iowans' pockets and helped them make ends meet.

And I'm ready to continue pushing for legislation that will protect Iowans' voting rights, promote access to safe and affordable health care, lower the costs of a quality education, and ensure there are more good-paying jobs for Iowans.

This has been a year for the history books, and I want to thank each and every Iowan that I've heard from over the past year. Sharing your thoughts and perspectives with me has helped me push for these legislative solutions and more in Washington, and I hope you will continue to let me know the things on your mind so I can continue being the best representative for you in Congress.

Wishing you and your family a very Merry Christmas, happy holidays, and a healthy and prosperous New Year!

constituents from the federal government was returned.

In Des Moines, my office closed 750 cases brought forward by constituents who were seeking to get tax returns they were owed from the Internal Revenue Service, secure their Social Security payments, and to find their stimulus and Child Tax Credit payments they were promised and much more.

And in Washington, D.C., I voted for the American Rescue Plan that helped put over 4 million vaccines in Iowans' arms, 1.5 million direct payments into Iowans' pockets, and almost $1 billion in Child Tax Credit payments into Iowa's economy.

I also helped secure a new bipartisan infrastructure deal that is projected to bring Iowa more than $5 billion in investments over the next five years - with more than $700 million already allocated from that law to invest in our roads, bridges, airports, and water supply.

The infrastructure law I helped get signed into law also includes

But the work is far from over. I'm continuing to work in

County election precincts updated, approved by board of supervisors

Nick Johansen

The Red Oak Express

The Montgomery County Board of Supervisors has approved the establishment of the county's election precincts.

At a prior meeting, the supervisors reviewed a map, selected by a commission made up of members of both political parties, that would reduce the number of polling places in the sounty from seven to six. At the Dec. 21 meeting, the supervisors held a public hearing on the proposed map, and no oral or written comments were received.

The ordinance for establishing the election precincts was then opened up for discussion by the board. County Auditor Stephanie Burke said they went above and beyond to make sure the proposed map was viewed by as many people as possible.

"I felt it was publicized very well. The map was posted online and in print form by several media outlets, and was sent out to all of the city clerks," Burke advised.

As part of the new map, the consolidation of districts would be between districts four and five. Burke said there were several factors which were behind the decision to merge the two districts.

"The Grant Fire Station is a public emergency facility, and we have to pull out trucks and block emergency equipment with election equipment during an election. There just was no other location in the Grant city limits that would meet our needs as an election precinct and polling place," said Burke.

Another issue with the location was the lack of available power sources to use for the equipment necessary for an election, and ability to make phone calls if the need arose.

"We were having to use multiple extension cords for the equipment, and there was a lack of cell phone reception in the building. If the poll workers had to talk to us, or if we needed to communicate with them, they had to go outside and find reception," Burke explained. "We even had some problems with the weather. There have been times that snow or rain has actually come into the building. The last issue is the size of the facility. We're trying to follow CDC guidelines and space people out, and it's not working very well in that location."

Before making the ultimate decision to eliminate the fire station as a polling place, Burke said they researched voter turn-out in the location, and Burke said the numbers at that location were low.

"In the November, 2018 election, 159 people voted at that polling location, and 36 voted absentee. In November, 2020, during the general election, we combined Elliott and Grant together, and 141 people voted at the polling location, which was in Elliott, and 168 voted absentee. In this year's election, only 32 people voted at the Grant location. So when we did a combined polling place with Elliott and Grant in 2020, it didn't really have much of an effect on turnout at all," Burke commented.

From a financial standpoint, Burke said eliminating one polling place would save money on election equipment, as they would be programming one less piece of equipment.

Burke said they also had plans to shift the city of Coburg's voting precinct from Stanton to Red Oak.

"It's more convenient for those voters to come to Red Oak, and Coburg and Red Oak both have the same school district," Burke said.

Thanks to the state's legislative redistricting, Burke said the county now no longer has legislative lines splitting Montgomery County anymore.

Ultimately, Burke said as a process of the meeting to come up with the new maps, they focused on what would be the most convenient and cost effective map for the voters, and the map currently before the supervisors was voted on by the commission as the best option.

Burke also reminded the supervisors that the map they were voting on was not final, and would be sent to the state legislature for a final decision.

"There's a possibility that they may say this isn't going to work, and so we may have to reconvene the election commission members and go back to the drawing board. We are prepared to do that if the state legislature needs to be done," Burke commented.

Supervisors Chair Donna Robinson asked Supervisor Mark Peterson if he had heard any concerns from his constituents, as the map would mainly affect their districts. Peterson said he had heard no negative or positive comments.

"To look at it, it makes perfect sense to do it this way. If anything, in the past I've had constituents have trouble with the precincts the way they were. A gentleman west of Red Oak went from Elliott to vote, and got sent from Elliott to Stanton because of confusion. Also, I agree that having people located west of Red Oak having to drive to Stanton is inconvenient," Peterson stated.

Robinson said she had also heard no positive or negative comments personally from her constituents, and that the new map also made total sense to her.

The supervisors unanimously approved the first reading of the ordinance establishing the election precincts, waived the second and third readings, and adopted the ordinance.

The new map can still be reviewed at montgomerycountyia.gov/auditors-office/ election-voting-central/.

and met with the developer, and has a better understanding of the delays in the project and has offered her assistance if needed. Another aspect of her preparation to take over the position is identifying available monies to help with the city's development.

"I'm familiarizing myself with some funding sources I know are applicable and have upcoming deadlines, so we are prepared. I'm reviewing Tax Increment Financing, from a city financing viewpoint, and familiarizing myself with other relevant legislative changes with city budgets and a variety of state programs. I will spend a great deal of time learning about this role, city perspectives, working with our city administration, and building stronger relationships and trust within the community," said Silvius.

Silvius believes her experience in community and economic development gives her the knowledge, connections and understanding of what it takes to improve quality of life, create opportunities and grow the community. She said Red Oak presently has talented individuals in key positions, so her job is to help support them to do what they need to do to help the community move forward. She said she also stands behind the priorities and key topics she shared in her campaign platform, and it's given her the confidence to address the changes that need to be made to positively impact the community. Silvius said there are several high-priority goals she's set for herself for her first term. "I want to focus on working with those who are passionately pursuing and willing to invest in these main five issues. To secure a plan and financing to finish buried fiber-delivered broadband to every home and business in Red Oak and make Montgomery County the first county in the country to be 100% 1-gig fiber optic; to help secure resources to support current housing initiatives and projects and encourage the development of a long-term housing plan; and to secure additional funding and support a plan to address critical and essential infrastructure improvements and maintenance; create a community culture that encourages positive synergy bringing people together to accomplish shared goals; create opportunities for those struggling to improve their quality of life and contribute to the success of our community; and advance Red Oak into a position that recognizes our community as a regional leader because of the culture and synergy we've created. "

Also, Silvius said she's looking forward to having the opportunity to work together with the council members who have served on the council for multiple terms.

"I feel we have an incredible council with diverse knowledge, experience, and interests with amazing skill sets and passion. I'm very excited and honored to serve our community along with them," Silvius said.

She also said she felt truly humbled and blessed to have had such a remarkable showing of support from our community.

" I look forward to seeing that support grow as we are committed to serve the citizens and community of Red Oak. Brian and Tim bring incredible leadership to the council and we've all listened to our constituents, paying special attention to what they shared and feel matters. They also have a business mindset. They possess a solid foundation to represent the city's best interests while serving our constituents. This support is especially critical when issues are highly controversial. We need, welcome, and invite your input more than ever when you have concerns or ideas. We represent you, so we invite you to contact any council person or me anytime you have something you wish to discuss or share," Silvius commented.

that we all have different backgrounds and experiences that have shaped us and our opinions. With that said, it's also acceptable to agree to disagree but to disagree on the issue, not judge or disrespect the person. An example I heard recently, we can agree to either like or hate liver and onions. But we don't hate or dislike someone just because they like it," Silvius stated. "I ask you all to look at issues this way and to seek first to understand, then be understood. Sometimes we don't know our own motivations, so I challenge everyone to always look internally at "your why" and know our role is to make the best decision for the long term and for our people. That may mean we have to be open to alternatives. I'd like to think we all are committed to doing the right thing, the right way for the right reasons. I believe, if you sit down with someone you may have adversity with and openly discuss the issue and desired outcomes, you can find a resolve or compromise you can all live with. Sometimes, things take baby steps, multiple steps, or phases. Just be patient and know we are looking at the long-term. I'd also like to say that I hope to build greater trust, transparency, and unity."

Silvius will be hosting a series of community listening/vision sessions beginning Jan. 15 specifically for young adults ages 16-25 at the FiveOne8 in downtown Red Oak from 4-6 p.m. Anyone interested should contact Silvius at mayor@redoakia. city. Future sessions are yet to be set. From these, Silvius said she wants to look at a grassroots approach to community-wide strategic planning that will get all the community involved and engaged in the process and help the city develop our next strategies. "As I've said in my campaign, 'Coming together is a beginning; Keeping together is progress; Working together is success!' - Henry Ford. I believe we are all called into our positions to serve; and we are all ready and anxious to work together and with critical partners to build a healthier community."

Silvius said she wanted to take one more opportunity to address the citizens of Red Oak prior to beginning her first term.

"I want you to know I'm encouraging our council to seek your input and ideas and be available to listen and discuss even controversial topics. What I ask of you is to be patient with all of us, to come to us when you have issues, concerns, or ideas, and to understand

Nick's Picks vs. Charm's Credence

Current season:

Nick: 130-109-1

Charm141-98-1

Record: 721-566-5

Nick savs:

Well Scoop and I are uncertain of the final standings yet, but Charm said that we did well enough in last week's pick 'ems that we're not in last place yet.

Darn.

We're definitely running out of time to finish the season where we belong. Scoop is apparently a savvy picker.

Let's see what we can do with this week. Atlanta/Buffalo: Scoop pawed the Falcons.

N.Y. Giants/Chicago: Giants.

Kansas City/Cincinnati: Scoop is going to take the Chiefs over the cats, in support of Tess.

Miami/Tennessee: I'm choosing the Titans. Scoop's a little bit grumpy about it. Las Vegas/Indianapolis: Raiders, Scoop thinks. Jacksonville/New England: I'll let Scoop take the Jaguars here, since I overrode Scoop's other pick with the Titans.

Carolina/New Orleans: Panthers, why not?

Tampa Bay/N.Y. Jets: Buccaneers.

Philadelphia/Washington: Eagles, Scoop believes.

Denver/L.A. Chargers: Chargers, at a guess

Houston/San Francisco: Scoop thinks 49ers.

Arizona/Dallas: Cardinals.

Detroit/Seattle: Scoop is going to stick by the Lions.

L.A. Rams/Baltimore: Rams. Minnesota/Green Bay: Packers. Cleveland/Pittsburgh: Steelers.

Charm says:

My eldest son and his family gave me a ticket (and a ride) to the Minnesota vs. Rams game on Sunday as a gift! WOOP! Along with the Jonnycakes, whom I have converted into a Rams fan, we traveled on Christmas day and went to the game! Cakers and I helped the boys clinch a playoff spot! Talk about excited! This was Cakers first NFL game and to see the expressions on his face from discouragement to full concentration to exuberation was more than worth it!

We got to the stadium early and stood as close to the field as allowed, and we were able to watch the Rams warm up. Hekk ya was working on his kicks and we were this close! Pretty exciting stuff!!

Record: 811-476-5

Although we looked as cute as we could and hollered as loud as we could, we were unable to get an autograph or handshake. No biggie! We saw a RAMS WIN, BABY!

Apparently other games happened, but I was on cloud nine all through Monday night. At that point, Pdawg finally made it downstairs to watch his game on the big TV. The Fins played a great first quarter and great second half, so I had a very happy (and loud) teenager Monday night!

I have to admit, I was rooting for the Fins, but I did begin to feel sorry for New Orleans' QB, Ian Book, as he made his first start in the NFL. The poor kid! He was sacked eight times and had to be one hurting unit! Their number one OB was injured early in the season, and they have been floating between two QBs who both were ineligible due to COVID protocols. Book was thrown into the top position and the team signed Blake Bortles on the previous Friday for an "in case" situation.

One can't blame the loss totally on the rookie QB, as the Saints had three starters missing from the offensive line, leaving little to no protection for the QB.

It was a fun game to watch. Not as fun as the Rams at Minnesota, though!

Predictions in bold: Atlanta @ Buffalo NY Giants @ Chicago KC @ Cincinnati Miami @ Tennessee Las Vegas @ Indy Jacksonville @ New England Carolina @ New Orleans Tampa Bay @ NY Jets Philly @ Washington Denver @ LA Chargers Houston @ SF Arizona @ Dallas Detorit @ Seattle LA Rams @ Baltimore Minnesota @ Green Bay Cleveland @ Pittsburgh Horns up, Ramily!!

School, fair board renew contract, hires for 2022-23 approved

Nick Johansen

The Red Oak Express

The Red Oak School Board met for the first and only time in December at a meeting held Dec. 20.

Among the action items on the agenda, according to superintendent Ron Lorenz, was to approve the renewal of an agreement between the Red Oak District and the Montgomery County Agricultural Society.

"This agreement really defines the different roles and responsibilities of the different entities that coordinate the fair. There have been no changes to the agreement as-written," Lorenz said.

The board approved the renewal of the agreement with the Montgomery County Agricultural Society.

The board also declined a request for Zaden Beacham to open enroll from Red Oak to the Shenandoah Community School District, upon a recommendation from Lorenz, who said typically open enrollment requests were approved under the consent agenda, but he felt in this case, it warranted conversation.

"The parents had requested open enrollment to Shenandoah, but this student does not meet any of the good-cause exemptions for open-enrollment after the date, and the student is not experiencing a change in residency, nor experiencing any pervasive harassment or bullying, so we are not recommending the board approve the request at this point," explained Lorenz.

Lorenz added the parents were free to request Beacham's open enrollment for next year, but it was not recommended at this time.

"It's a very formal process to approve open enrollment from the state; in essence, there are check-boxes on the statewide application, and the parent was honest and said that nothing noted on the application was an issue, they were merely making an open enrollment request.

The board denied the open enrollment request for Zaden Beacham.

In other business, the board:

• Approved a sharing agreement with the Clarinda Community School District for the 2021-22 school year.

• Approved the hire of Riley Brown as agriculture instructor/FFA sponsor for the 2022-23 school year.

• Approved the hire of David Ross as a bus driver, pending mandatory pre-employment drug testing, for the 2021-22 school year.

• Approved the hire of William Collins as high school math instructor for the 2022-23 school year, pending a background check.

• Approved the resignation of Anneliese Oritz as para-professional at the Red Oak Early Childhood Center, effective Dec. 27.

• Approved the resignation of Stephanie Berglund as kindergarten instructor at Inman Elementary, effective Jan. 14, 2022.

• Approved a request to authorize board secretary Deb Drey to pay bills prior to formal approval at the next regular school board meeting on Jan. 10, 2022.

• Approved an authorization to petition the school budget review committee to cover the excess costs of providing services to limited English proficient students that exceeds the supplemental amount.

"At a prior board meeting, we approved the beyond five-year expense, and this application wasn't available at this time, so this will complete that prior board action," commented Lorenz.

The board approved issuing the application to the school budget review committee.

Investigation into Mulholland Grocery fire 'could take months'

Joe Foreman

SW Iowa Publishing

The Iowa State Fire Marshal and insurance company representatives are continuing their investigation into a fire that destroyed the Mulholland Grocery building in Malvern Dec. 13.

"Actually, it (investigation) is fairly slow. The investigation has been delayed because of the structural integrity of the building. – specifically, the exterior walls," John Ticer, special agent with the Iowa State Fire Marshal's Office, said Monday. "The insurance company has hired a demolition company to finish taking down the exterior walls that Mother Nature did not take care of the other night."

In his mention of "Mother Nature," Ticer was referring to the additional damage the building sustained when extremely high winds and a severe thunderstorm passed through Mills County last Wednesday.

Mills County Emergency Management Director Larry Hurst said the north and east walls of the building collapsed within minutes of each other.

"Before the storm hit, because of the wind, the north wall collapsed partially. During the storm, the street side wall came down," Hurst said.

Ticer said because of the structural concerns, investigators had yet to conduct a "walk-through" of the building as of Monday morning.

"At that point, there's still issues in the interior with the integrity of the floor system," he said. "That, combined with the need for some heavy equipment, public investigators, myself in particular, will be coming to work with the insurance companies that will be involved."

Ticer said the structural issues complicate the investigation that will likely last well into 2022.

"Nobody wants to delay it any more than what we have to because obviously folks want some answers into what happened there. That's an integral part of that community and a historical location for Malvern," Ticer said.

Last Minute Tax and Retirement Planning Tips for 2021

Dan Miller Certified Financial Planner

The count down to the end of 2021 is here! It is hard to believe the ball is going to drop again in just a few days! While some would say this year can't end soon enough, others will hate to see it go. As we narrow in on the last few days, I wanted to point out a few last-minute tax and retirement tips that you may wish to consider. (Please Note: Nothing in this blog should be construed as tax advice. Please consult with your own tax advisor regarding your specific tax situation) 1. Follow-up on IRA and 401k transactions like rollovers and ROTH conversions. For most of these types of transactions you should have already received confirmations that the funds had transferred once the transaction was complete. But unfortunately, that is not always the case. There have been instances where the wrong account number got credited or the transaction was coded incorrectly for tax purposes. Working with a team that keeps you updated throughout the process is very important. Follow-up on 60-Day Rollovers: 60-day rollovers 2. are not as commonly used as they once were, but if utilized they must be done correctly. If your intent is to re-deposit withdrawn IRA funds back into another IRA in must be done within the 60-day window or it will be considered a taxable withdrawal. If you are less than 59 1/2 years old, it may also be subject to a 10% penalty. Take your Required Minimum Distributions for 3. 2021: This is one we see that some people may potentially get tripped up on this year. In 2020 the CARES ACT eliminated RMDs for the 2020 tax year. But they are back and enforceable for 2021. We have seen cases where RMD recipients that were having them come out of their IRAs automatically, shut them off for last year, but have failed to turn them back on for 2021. So, if required, make sure to take the required amount(s) out of your IRA and other taxdeferred account to avoid the potential of a 50% penalty! Make sure Heirs take Required Minimum 4. Distributions if needed: If you inherited an IRA or other tax-deferred account in 2020 or 2021, make sure you understand the rules regarding if and when you must take your RMD as an heir. With recent changes in the rules, there are now potentially two different sets of rules that may apply to you as an heir of this type of account. Consider Qualified 5. Charitable Distributions: If SINCE 1963 you are charitably inclined and over age 70 ½, QCDs cans serve as very productive tool to support the charities that you care about and still be able to receive a potential tax benefit. Because of the higher standard deductions in place and the fact that most do not itemize their deductions any longer, it is much more difficult to receive a tax benefit from your charitable gifts. QCD are great alternatives to consider if you fit the requirements to use these tools.

6. Still time to conider a ROTH Conversion: "Obviously, folks want some answers if they're out there, but unfortunately in this particular situation, it's just going to be delayed probably until after the first of the year."

Ticer said once investigators do make their way into the remains of the structure, there may be some physical items that require further examination.

"When we start looking at electrical wiring, electrical components that are in the building – compressors and things of that nature – that all gets done typically in a laboratory setting," he said. So, literally, this investigation could take months."

Over the past week, grocery store owner Tom Mulholland has expressed his appreciation on social media to the dozens of firefighters and other first responders who pitched in at the scene of the fire. He also thanked friends and patrons for their acts of kindness and words of support. No decision has been made on the future of the store that attracted customers from throughout the region.

"It's too early to say what the future holds for Mulholland Grocery, but once I have gotten through the investigations and insurance process I will have a plan and let you know," Mulholland said in a Facebook post Thursday, Dec. 16.

It could take months before the investigation into what

For those who had a change (reduction) in income this year and also have sizable tax-deferred qualified assets (IRAs, 401ks, etc) there is still time to execute this strategy. But prior to putting this into motion, you should contact your tax professional and make sure this makes sense for you. Also, by working with both your tax professional and a qualified financial planner, you may be able to incorporate this into a forward-looking tax-management and retirement income strategy.

This list just scratches the surface of some of the lastminute planning items that you may wish to consider. If you have additional questions on these or other planning concerns, please reach out to your tax advisor and financial professional. But do it soon, the clock is ticking!

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

IAPPY NEW YEAR

Reason behind New Year's Eve traditions

Traditions are the glue that hold many celebrations together. Individuals and families embrace many customs that serve as the script for commemorating year-end holidays.

Some celebrants may adhere to traditions without really knowing how they began or why they continue. Here is a closer look at some of the most popular traditions tied to New Year's Eve, both domestically and around the world.

Drinking champagne

The use of champagne for celebrations is rooted in the Christian ritual of consuming wine during the Eucharist. In the year 496, a wine from the Champagne region of France was offered during the baptism of the Frankish warrior Clovis, according to the Champagne Committee of France. It then became customary for champagne to be used at religious events like consecrations and at coronations or soirees. Eventually the tradition became associated with secular rituals, such as celebrating the new year.

Food

People of Japanese heritage might eat soba noodles on New Year's Eve. The Toshikoshi Soba, which means "year crossing buckwheat noodle," denotes the crossing from one year to the next. Nibbling the noodles represent traveling from one year to the next as well as letting go of the previous year's regrets.

In Spain, people gobble grapes to bring good luck in the coming year. The goal is to eat 12 green grapes during the 12 remaining seconds until the New Year. Those able to do so will have 12 months of good fortune.

Dropping the ball

Revelers have long watched the giant ball drop in New York City's Times Square in person and on television. This tradition may be rooted in the custom of sailors using "time balls" to set their own timepieces while at sea. These chronometers were employed by using a spyglass to scan the harbor looking for balls that were dropped into the water at certain times, PBS reports.

The first ball was installed in 1829 in Portsmouth, England. The Times Square ball was first used in 1907, according to the Times Square Alliance.

Making resolutions

Historians trace the making of resolutions to the Ancient Babylonians. Citizens made spoken resolutions during their new year festival known as "Akitu." This ritual required making an oath to the sitting or new king. Romans also swore oaths of loyalty to the emperor when the New Year started.

Fireworks and noisemakers

Fireworks are a big part of celebrations and are not to be outdone on New Year's Eve. Fireworks were invented in the seventh century in China. According to Anthony Aveni, an astronomer and anthropologist at Colgate University, the fireworks were designed to ward off evil spirits.

In cultures around the world, fireworks, banging drums and other efforts were used to chase away spooky creatures, especially during the transitional period that is the passing of the new year. Today fireworks and noisemakers are employed not for scaring away spirits, but rather to add to the revelry.

Why New Year resolutions might be a good thing

The end of December is a busy time of year. Families are shopping for gifts for loved ones and friends, holiday celebrations are in full swing and thoughts begin to turn to the new year ahead.

At the stroke of midnight on New Year's Eve, it is customary to sip a glass of champagne and toast to the new year. Many people use the dawn of a new year as a time to create a list of resolutions that reflect positive changes they hope to make in the year ahead.

Between 40 and 45% of American adults make resolutions each year, according to the health and wellness group Proactive Mindfulness. According to John C. Norcross, Marci S. Mrykalo and Matthew D. Blagys, coauthors of the study "Auld Lang Syne: Success predictors, change processes, and self-reported outcomes of New Year's resolvers and nonresolvers," within six months of starting a resolution 46% of people are still maintaining their resolutions.

Resolutions may seem silly to some, but there are several positive reasons to make them.

• Resolutions provide practice setting goals. Goal-setting is an important component of life. Goals are key because they provide general direction in life. A goal is a map that can give you an idea of where you are heading and what path you need to take to get there, according to the self-improvement guide Success Consciousness. Resolutions can be fun, low-pressure goals. Think of them as dress rehearsals for bigger life changes.

• Resolutions offer time for reflection. Too often people are rushing through daily life without stopping or slowing down to truly assess the impact of their actions. Resolutions help you reflect on the past, present and future, figuring out what has been working and what may need to be changed to provide a boost, according to the wellness resource Alternative Daily.

• Resolutions can serve as a catalyst for positive change. When something isn't working with your routine, personal health or relationships, resolutions can serve as the catalyst that ultimately rights the ship.

• Resolutions can promote self-esteem and empowerment. Making resolutions and keeping them can provide a sense of accomplishment that comes with goal-setting and following through. Resolving to lose five pounds and then seeing the proof on a scale can be a powerful motivator that compels you to make other self-improvements. Accomplishing small goals also can boost self-esteem.

New Year's traditions around the world

Each Dec. 31, people anxiously await and count down to the arrival of the new year. Jan. 1 often is a time for reflection and for making future plans. It also is a holiday full of tradition.

Notable New Year's traditions include toasting champagne beneath skies lit up by fireworks, kissing one's sweetheart at midnight and making resolutions to better oneself in the year ahead.

New Year's Eve and New Year's Day traditions vary across the globe. The following is a look at the unique ways people ring in the new year throughout the world.

Filipinos embrace round fruits for the new year. The custom includes gathering 12 different round fruits for each month of the year. The round shape symbolizes wealth and prosperity.

• Around Stonehaven, Scotland, people wield large fireballs for the Hogmanay festival on New Year's Eve. The idea is to ward off evil spirits by swinging balls of fires over the heads of trained professionals and then tossing them into the sea. The tradition has endured for more than 100 years.

• In the Eastern Orthodox Greek Church, Christmas isn't celebrated until Jan. 7. Aghios Vassilis, the Greek Santa Claus, makes his rounds on New Year's Day.

• Chilean families celebrate the arrival of the new year by commemorating deceased friends and family members. It is common for those in Chile to set up chairs next to graves in the cemetery.

· Burmese people end the Thingyan water festival on New Year's Day. Since April, they have celebrated the arrival of Thagyamin, a celestial Buddhist figure, with the firing of water cannons. The water-logged revelry ends with the new year.

• Siberians celebrate the new year's with the planting of the "New Year's Tree" underneath frozen lakes. This "yolka" is said to symbolize the coming of Father Frost, but also represents starting over.

• In Denmark, residents break old dishes on the doorsteps of family and friends on New Year's Day. The bigger the pile, the more friends and good will in the new year.

In China, where the new year is celebrated on Feb. 5 this year according to the lunar calendar, celebrants paint their doors red or hang red curtains or cutouts on windows to symbolize good luck.

Notable events that took place in January 1922

The dawn of a new year is often seen as a great time to look ahead, but looking back can be equally valuable and insightful. Looking back also can be a fun way to see how the world has changed.

Those interested in what life might have been like 100 years ago can take note of these events which occurred in the first month of 1922.

• The Rose Bowl, which remains one of college football's most celebrated events, ends in a 0-0 tie on Jan. 2. The Washington & Jefferson Patriots and California Golden Bears are each considered unofficial champions of the 1921 college football campaign.

• Adolf Hitler receives a three-month prison sentence on Jan. 13 for interrupting a meeting at a beer hall where his political rival, Otto Ballerstedt, was scheduled to speak. Twelve years later, Ballerstedt is killed during the Night of the Long Knives, a series of extrajudicial executions orchestrated by the Nazi party. • Irish revolutionary Michael Collins is appointed Chairman of the provisional government of the Irish Free State with the passing of the Anglo-Irish Treaty of 1921 on Jan. 14.

• Betty White is born in Oak Park, Ill. on Jan. 17. White would become a beloved and iconic actress.

• On Jan. 26, the United States House of Representatives votes to approve the Anti-Lynching Bill, which would have made lynching a federal crime. The U.S. Senate never votes on the bill.

• A scandal breaks out in college football on Jan. 27 when nine University of Illinois players are disqualified for accepting $200 apiece to play in a semi-professional game. Three University of Notre Dame players are implicated as well. • Heavy snowfall causes the roof of the Knickerbocker Theatre in Washington, D.C. to collapse on Jan. 28. Nearly 100 people die when the roof falls in on people in the balcony, which then collapses onto the individuals seated below.

municipality in the Indian state of Kerala, donates Guruvayur Keshavan, a 10.5-foottall elephant, to the Guruvayur temple on January 4. The elephant would serve at the temple until its death in December 1976.
